2019's top diets made to fit your real estate schedule

With each new year, many real estate agents add health and weight goals to their list of resolutions — but by Valentine's Day, those goals are usually abandoned. What's a hungry agent to do? Here are four effective diets you can follow while keeping a busy real estate schedule.

Source: click here