7 apps that make filing taxes a breeze

As a real estate agent, you are technically self-employed. This means that come tax season, deductions become extremely important and your taxes are a whole different ball game than they would be with a standard job.

Source: click here