

How to make seller objections the core of your lead gen

You and I both know your ideal clients should be listing their house with you. The problem is they don't always understand just how much you bring to the table. In fact, they often have a long list of reasons they shouldn't list their house with you.

Source: click here