Agent income plunges by double digits despite record high home prices

The affordability crisis and housing supply shortage are hitting agents and brokers hard, according to the 2018 NAR Member Profile report.

Source: click here