And they will take the stage for frank and forthright conversations you can't miss.

Ryan Schneider joined Realogy as president and chief operating officer in October 2017 after nearly 15 years of senior leadership experience at Capital One Financial Corporation. Bess Freedman, Brown Harris Stevens
Bess Freedman is Brown Harris Stevens' first chief executive officer. Formerly co-president of Brown Harris Stevens and a senior managing director of the Corcoran Group's East Side headquarters, Freedman brings to her real estate career top professionalism, interpersonal skills and negotiating savvy that are well respected by her industry peers and agents alike.

Glenn Sanford, eXp World Holdings
Glenn Sanford believed that agents and brokers do the heavy lifting in real estate and deserve benefits of being a shareholder in their company and income based on the level of their contribution. In October 2009, eXp Realty, LLC launched as the first cloud-based, national real estate brokerage. The virtual office environment compared to the traditional real estate office allows agents to collaborate and learn together, no matter where they are located.
