Adventures in door-knocking: One agent’s most extreme tales

So he’s had his fair share of door-knocking nightmares and awkward situations.

Guns being pulled on him; close calls with a pit bull; being invited to, shall we say, an adult party — McDaniel has seen it all.

In this video, I helped McDaniel dig into his repressed memories and unearth these adventures in door-knocking.

If you enjoy the video and want to learn how to actually knock on doors and get leads, download McDaniel’s favorite scripts.
