Boomers: Get ejected, leave or play the game full-out?

The median age in the real estate industry may very well be the highest in the country. As technology changes continue accelerate and the millennials and Gen Z take the stage, the question for Boomers is: will you call it quits, be forced out by all the shifts -- or keep on delivering value to your clients as long as you can ...

Source: click here