Celebrating patriotic holidays: A primer for agents

Given agents' intense desire to stay top-of-mind, many of us post holiday greetings for every little holiday — and without a lot of forethought. With all of this holiday outreach, we need to be sure our message is on point. Here's a primer for agents on how to observe these holidays and connect with clients appropriately.

Source: click here