'Compass Anywhere' will allow agents to work from any office

The new program will now allow agents to work from any office, providing technology and support services no matter where they land.

Source: click here