Do real estate agents need to pay attention to cryptocurrency?

Cryptocurrency is a hot topic in the investing world, and it has introduced people to alternative methods of payment, especially since some online merchants and physical stores accept it. Should real estate agents keep up with developments in cryptocurrency?

Source: click here