

3 ways social media can help your search engine rankings

If you're doing it right, social media has a huge impact on SEO. That's because social media strategies help you build links, increase site traffic and improve your content. Links, site traffic and content quality have been, and continue to be, among Google's top ranking factors.

Source: click here