4 reasons agents will never find themselves out of a job

The advent of technology has called into question the need for real estate agents. Not unlike the once-prominent travel agency, online portals are attempting to relegate real estate agents to a thing of the past. However, I am here to tell you that real estate agents are more necessary today than they have ever been. Our reliance on technology has made many complacent; they think finding their dream home is as simple as using the internet. Every real estate transaction, whether you are buying or selling, is wrought with potential for setback. However, real estate agents are the best way to mitigate any complications that might arise over the course of a deal; their services are more valuable than many give them credit for. At the very least, a great real estate agent will see t...
