Agent/broker perspective: What can brokers do to improve agent safety?

A female Miami real estate agent has concerns about safety and security while doing her job and wants to know what support she can expect from her broker.

Source: click here