ICNY 18 day 2 recap: All of our Tuesday coverage

NEW YORK — Tuesday's lineup of programming at Inman Connect New York featured an exciting mix of exclusive news announcements, technology insights, agent advice, and critical conversations with industry leadership. That's not to mention all the moments between sessions and connections made over coffee! As we close out the day, check out our video highlight reel and roundup of Tuesday's top ICNY coverage:

Technology:

- The iBuyers are coming for real estate
- Trust Stamp will use selfies to protect your email
- Virtual reality, 3-D technology will still need agents
- How to close a deal with bitcoin
- 9 startups to watch out for this year
- Imagine a 'magically interactive' future

News announcements:

- Better Homes and Gardens Real Estate relaunches Beta Brokers program
- LoanDepot moves beyond lending to match buyers with agents

Industry leaders:

- Realogy looking to real estate outsiders for competitive edge
- Tax reform failed to address desperate need for new construction
- Compass, Redfin CEOs open up about navigating political division

Agent advice:

- 5 tips for prospecting a whole new way
- 7 tips from a family real estate team with mad referral game
- 9 apps every real estate agent should have handy

To see a full list of coverage since Monday, click here.

Email Dani Vanderboegh

Source: click here