Inspection report's back! 3 steps to prevent a buyer meltdown

Whether your clients are first-timers or seasoned homebuyers, it’s important to keep the transaction as stress-free as possible for them. Follow these three steps after the inspection report comes back to guide your buyers and help them make informed decisions when moving forward.

Source: click here