BuyerDocs wants to save your real estate clients from wire fraud

Have suggestions for products that you'd like to see reviewed by our real estate technology expert? Email Craig Rowe. BuyerDocs is a web-based software for real estate wire fraud prevention. Platforms: Browser; mobile-optimized Ideal for: Title companies, lenders, agents and brokers Top selling points Minimal interaction with email Built on AES (advanced encryption standard) No password or account registration for buyers Top concerns Number of admin accounts that can be created by the title company's "master admin" could lead to increased access risk. What you should know BuyerDocs' value is in its minimal use of email to send and manage wiring instructions. The software is managed by a Master Admin at a title company who controls everything, including the number of admin accounts created for individual title agents. Thus, very few people have access to a buyer's information, and files can't be forwarded or accessed without the Master Admin's knowledge. ...
