Require Holdings announced that its company, reQuire Real Estate Solutions of Virginia Beach, VA, is now in partnership with CertifID, a software company whose product uses two-factor authentication and deep personal metadata to securely identify parties to a real estate mortgage wire transfer. reQuire Real Estate Solutions provides lender and title company customers with a patented digital process for tracking and reporting settled mortgage notes. According to its website, reQuire's Payoff Disbursement Package Generator "automatically validates, encrypts, and stores a property’s lien information in our release tracking database." "The long and short of it is ... reQuire has over the years assembled a nice suite of products for the space, and we've known Al Will for over a decade," said CertifID Co-Founder and CEO Tom Cronkright told me over the phone. "He...
