Largest single-family rental company Invitation Homes sued for excessive late fees

Invitation Homes, the nation’s largest single-family rental company, is being sued for charging late fees that a plaintiff is arguing violates state law in all 12 states where the company rents homes.

Source: click here