Luxury sellers: Get ready to wait

The highest-end properties that were sold last year spent an average 506 days on market, about a year and a half, according to Concierge Auctions.

Source: click here