Never bought a home? 5 tips for being an expert agent regardless

Our job, as real estate agents, is to find ready, willing and able buyers and sellers and help them achieve their real estate goals. So how do you successfully sell a home to others or help buyers find the perfect place when you haven't been in their shoes yourself?

Source: click here