NextHome will automate marketing for all 2,400 agents with Imprev

Agents that are part of the NextHome family are about to up their value proposition with the tech-focused brokerage's new marketing automation software. The new service, powered by real estate marketing company Imprev will fully automate the creation of marketing content.

Source: click here