Selling a house? 8 steps for making a big first impression

If you want to create a show-stopper opening for a new listing, insist on getting the planning and prep work underway as early as possible.

Source: click here