The first 3 things you notice in a home

So many elements of a home can impress or disappoint a buyer immediately. Two agents share their different takes on the ones that strike them first....

Source: click here