The luxury market 'is doing just fine' — even amid shrinkage

Luxury buyers are gravitating away from the grand estate and toward properties with lots of amenities and little maintenance.

Source: click here