The no. 1 marketing mistake real estate professionals make

Today, we're talking about a mistake we see real estate professionals making all the time. People are spending time, money and effort marketing to consumers they don't know and neglecting the ones they do. This is a huge mistake!

Find out what to do about it in the video above.

Source: click here