Labor Day deals: 20 real estate closing gifts you won’t want to miss

What’s more stressful than buying the perfect gift for your mom on Mother’s Day? Buying a closing gift for a client!

There’s plenty of things to consider such as the price, how the gift will fit your buyer or seller’s needs and making sure it’s memorable enough to serve you well down the line when your client or a client’s friend needs a helping hand during the homebuying or selling process.

Here are some of my favorite picks from the list, along with a few goodies I found on my own:
