The winter open house checklist every agent needs

Once you've got all the basic details and planning taken care of, take time to start prepping for your winter open house a day or so in advance by doing these 10 things.

Source: click here