TransactionDesk is a real estate transaction management solution by Lone Wolf Technologies. Platforms: Browser; companion iOS app Ideal for: Brokerages seeking to streamline deal management; tech-savvy teams and agents; offices already working with Lone Wolf products Top selling points New listings upload to MLS Integration of Authentisign Broker oversight features End-to-end deal workflow Top concerns This is an enterprise-level commitment for most brokerages and teams. Ensure your office is prepared to onboard a system this robust. What you should know TransactionDesk imports properties using their multiple listing service (MLS) ID and, while most details are auto-filled, users can edit and complete anything the MLS form can't translate. Once a new transaction is ready, the software presents access to its features using a series of activity ...
